13. Documentation: researchers should follow the Chicago Manual of Style (author-date) in documenting their manuscripts. Otherwise, they may adopt the following documentation style:

First: Documentation in the text:

1. References should be parenthetically cited in the text on the basis of the Surname, year of publication (Harazallah, 1992), and (Ghazali, al-Baghdadi, 2003). In the case of three or more authors, it is documented as: (Baghdadi et al, 2008).
2. In the case of two references of two different authors, they are to be arranged alphabetically (Smith, 2005; Roland, 2003).
3. In the case of more than one reference in the same year by the same author they should be differentiated using alphabets (Elbert, 2000a), (Elbert, 2000b).
4. In the case of textual quoting, page numbers/reference should be included (Jones, 2003, P: 65).
5. Footnotes/endnotes should be electronically organized, using font size 10. They should be kept to the minimum.
6. In referring to a verse from the Holy Qur'an, Ottoman fonts should be used, followed by the name of the Sura and number of the verse parenthetically cited (Albaqara: 252). The same is followed with the Prophet's sayings.
7. When referring to Pioneer names in the text, write the full name and the date of death parenthetically; and if the name belongs to one who is alive, the date of birth should be cited.

Second: Documentation at the end of the manuscript:

All references cited to in the text must be included in the list of references at the end of the manuscript before the indexes - if any - and organized alphabetically (a list for Arabic references and another for non-Arabic references, as follows:

Special sources

- Al-Ahadith (sayings): include the author's name, the title of the book, (year of publication), edition, publisher, place of publication, the saying, volume, and page number.

  Example: Bukhari, Abu Abdullah Muhammad bin Ismail bin Ibrahim bin al-Mughira al-Ja'fai Bukhari ,Aljami' Al-Sahih Manual of the sayings of the Prophet of Allah peace be upon him. For example: (Mohammed Zuhair bin Nasser Nasser), a book (1422 e) i 1, Dar al-hayah, Beirut, No. 6718, vol. 8, p 146.

  If repeated ibid. documentation is as follows:

  Bukhari, a former source, the saying, volume, number, and page number.
- Poetry or verses of poetry are documented by mentioning the name of the poet, prosody, and discharged sources.
- A Manuscript is documented by mentioning the full name of the author, and the full title of the manuscript, the name of the place where it is saved, the quotation referred to as version history, number of pages. The face with a statement or quotation taken from the manuscript should be included at the back paper, as well. The face is referred to as the face of the paper and abbreviated as (a) the back as (b).
- Court rulings: include the name of the court, and the decision in the Year (619/2004) in bold, and the name of the magazine, and number, and year of publication, place of publication.
- Example: discrimination rights, 383/91, the magazine of the Jordanian Lawyers' Association, p 1/3, 1993, Amman.
- Copying from newspapers: in the case of an event: the name of the newspaper, issue number, date, and place of publication should be cited (Addustour, p 9253, 13 June 1993, Oman). In the case of an article, the author's name, title of the article in bold, the name of the newspaper, and the issue number, date, and place of publication should all be incorporated (Mahmoud Darwish, The Eleven Planets, Addustour, Amman, 31 March 1993, p 1965.
